GOVERNOR GILCHRIST AT TAMMANY HALL

Florida's Chief Executive Arouses Enthusiasm, Pointing Out New Race Questions of America.

NEW YORK, July 6.—With its traditional enthusiasm, the Society of Tammany held its Fourth of July celebration yesterday, a throng of members filling the elaborately decorated audience chamber in Tammany Hall and cheering the patriotic sentiment of the speakers.

Chief among these was Governor Albert W. Gilchrist of Florida, who aroused the enthusiasm of his auditors with his pronouncement of renewed faith in traditional Democratic doctrine. Governor Gilchrist devoted considerable attention to the race problem, defending with fervor the South's course with regard to the negro and alluding pointedly to the newer race questions which are agitating other sections of the country.

Governor Gilchrist referred to the tariff question, and pointed out what he declared to be fallacies and absurdities of the Republican platform promises and assertions, expressing wonder that the Republicans had not claimed credit for all the natural advantages of the country. He asserted that every financial panic or crisis which the country has suffered has started while the Republicans were in power.

New England to Blame.

Continuing, the speaker said: "The New England ancestors of the Republican party were largely responsible for slavery and its inception. The Republican party in its platform now talks about having 'freed the slaves.' They never did any such thing. Their freedom grew out of a war incident to secession, the seeds of which they had themselves sown. They simply make this claim in order to have and control the negro vote. They assuredly need all of them they can get. Instead of the Republicans claiming that they freed the slaves, their statement would have been more accurate had they claimed that in open defiance of the constitution they enfranchised the negroes."

Governor Gilchrist said he was opposed to the agitation of the unconstitutionality of the fifteenth amendment to the Federal constitution being started by any Southern legislature or State. "It can safely be affirmed," said he, "that sooner or later, when the Asiatics become voters in California and elsewhere on the Pacific coast, or when the colored contingents of Springfield, Ill., and of Springfield, O., or Pittsburg, or of other cities and States, become too aggressive, and that when the G. O. P. can no longer use the Brother in Black, that this question will be settled right by the Supreme Court of the United States."

President Taft's Plan.

Taking up President Taft's plea for greater division of political sentiment and affiliation in the South, Governor Gilchrist said: "Instead of discussing the race question as it exists, in the South, I will invite your attention to it as it now exists in neutral territory—the far Western States. Suppose this element, Chinese and Japanese, would, as the negroes in the South, vote practically as a unit. Don't you suppose that the white people of California would combine so as to preserve their very civilization? Suppose this condition existed throughout the entire Pacific coast and the States bordering thereon, don't you suppose that Mr. Taft would have his hands full in showing these people that 'there shall be more than one political creed?' Don't you suppose that these people consider it in a very different light than patriotic desire? Don't you suppose you would hear of the Solid Pacific?"

"Coming a little further East, judging from the riots in Springfield, Ill., right under the shadow of the monument of the great Emancipator—Do you suppose that if the negroes were nearly half of the people of Springfield, the white people of Springfield would consider it 'patriotic' for these negroes, in combination with a few white men, to rule that city?"

"Judging from the riots in Springfield, O., Mr. Taft's own State, under such conditions described above, how do you think the 'patriotic desire' of the white people of that State would assert itself? Now, as a matter of fact, right on the main street of the capital city of Florida in a good portion of the city, there are stores owned and managed by negroes. Southern white people feel more kindly towards them than do the whites of any other portion of the United States. But we do not desire to have them rule us any more than would the people of Springfield, O., or Springfield, Ill., desire to be ruled by them. I know of no greater injury which could befall the Southern States than for the white people to divide, and thereby leave the result to the arbitrament of the negro."

The South Prospering.

"I believe in the 'patriotic desire' of Mr. Taft, where such 'desire' can be properly asserted. I want it to become an important plank in the next National Republican platform. Patriotism should begin at home. I want the Republican party to practically break the solidity of the Solid New England States and of Solid Pennsylvania."

Governor Gilchrist said the South is now prospering and developing. "The census returns show that our population is increasing at a rate second to none," he said. "The assessment rolls show that material wealth is increasing rapidly. The increased number of our schools, our churches, show that we are fitting ourselves to be worthy of our increased wealth and strength."

DRUGGED AND MARRIED DECLARED SILVEY SPEER

JURY GRANTED DIVORCE VERDICT WITHOUT RETIRING.

Chauffeur Russell Thomas, Who Married the Young Lady Heiress, Offered No Objections.

ATLANTA, July 6.—Based upon her testimony that she was drugged at the time of her marriage with Russell J. Thomas, her father's chauffeur, and did not know what she was doing, Mrs. Silvey Speer Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Speer of this city, grand-daughter of the late John Silvey and heiress to more than a million, was granted a first verdict for complete divorce in the Superior Court here yesterday.

The jury, after hearing the statement of young Mrs. Thomas, gave her the verdict without leaving their seats. Russell Thomas, who is said to be attending a technical school in the East, did not appear to defend the suit.

The sensational marriage of Silvey Speer and Russell Thomas, who drove her father's automobile, took place Sept. 28, 1907, following which they went to Charlotte, N. C., where they were overtaken by Mrs. Speer, who brought her daughter home. She was then 17 years of age. Attorney Reuben Arnold said it would be shown that Miss Speer had been drugged and tricked into the marriage.

Thomas' Love-Making.

Rev. H. A. Atkinson, who performed the ceremony, stated he did so upon the statement of Thomas' father that the young lady's parents had given their consent. William Speer testified he had never given anyone authority over his daughter as guardian.

Mrs. Speer testified her daughter was delighted to come back to Atlanta with her and to leave Thomas, and said all the next day she was ill and in a dazed condition.

The evidence of young Mrs. Thomas was presented by deposition.

Asked "Did Thomas ever make love to you?" she replied: "He did attempt to tell me how much he thought of me. I did not know what he was attempting to drive at."

Asked "Did he ever make a proposal of marriage to you?" she replied, "Yes, he made such a proposition to me on one occasion while we were in the automobile. I told him I would not marry him and that he had better not let father know he had made such a request. He replied that my father was in the way of our marriage and that my father had better look out."

Drugged and Frightened.

Further on she testified that the elder Thomas, W. B. Thomas, Russell's father, had called her up over the telephone several days prior to the marriage and told her she had better marry his son or he would kill her father and ruin her. She said W. B. Thomas again called her up and told her to meet him and Russell at the Marietta car line, but she did not do so. On the morning of Sept. 28, after she had declined to meet them, she says the elder Thomas, accompanied by Russell, came to the point where she got off the car to go to Washington Seminary, in an automobile, and took her into it.

"I was frightened out of my senses," she said. "The elder Thomas said he had a nerve tonic with him and gave me a tablet of something. I did not know what, and I took it."

VICTIMS OF THE FOURTH NUMBER INTO HUNDREDS

Toy Cannon and Pistols Aid Fireworks in Spreading of Death and Terrible Wounds.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Four deaths, 337 injured, nine of them dangerously and one so seriously that death seems certain, was the Fourth of July record in New York and Brooklyn up to midnight last night.

The list of dead up to 10 o'clock follows:

Edith Brown, 6 years old, died from a fractured skull caused by the explosion of a toy cannon.

Dorothy Martin, 5 years old, died from burns caused by ignition of box of matches.

Georgia Maifredonia, a 10-year-old boy, died of tetanus after wounding his hand with a toy pistol.

Guiseppo Pagano, 40 years old, was killed by random bullet supposedly fired by a celebrator, though relatives maintain that he was murdered.

Fires in the city and suburbs were numbered by the score, but none in New York proper did any great damage.

Terrible Death of Parachute Jumper.

PORTLAND, Me., July 6.—Mistaking the promiscuous firing of revolvers as a signal for the climax of his aerial act, James Corcoran, aeronaut, 28 years old, of Lowell, Mass., cut loose with his parachute when but a few hundred feet from the earth here yesterday and was dashed to the ground, meeting almost instant death at the feet of 5,000 horrified spectators.

Three parachutes were attached to the balloon for a triple jump. It was arranged that Corcoran should drop with his parachutes when he heard a certain number of revolver shots after the balloon had reached a height of approximately 5,000 feet.

Corcoran had barely left the ground before promiscuous firing began, but the man to give the signal called out to him to keep on up. Above a few hundred feet it is hard for an aeronaut to guess correctly his exact height and so when Corcoran heard a second fusillade it is believed he was certain the signal had come. He was seen to drop, although he was barely 500 feet in the air.

The distance was too short for the parachute to open properly and the man dropped like a plummet, striking the ground about 1,000 feet from where the ascension was made.

He sustained a fracture of the skull and other injuries and he soon died.

Five Young Children Suffer Terrible Death by Flames

DANVILLE, Va., July 6.—As the result of a mysterious fire which totally destroyed the home of S. E. Hamlett at South Boston early yesterday morning, five of their children and H. A. Strange, aged 74, were burned to death, and another child, aged 4 years, was seriously injured. Mr. and Mrs. Hamlett escaped without injury.

The victims of the frightful tragedy are: H. A. Strange; Vernie Hamlett, age 14 years; Beatrice Hamlett, age 7 years; Violet Hamlett, age 6 years; Cecil Hamlett, age 3 years, and Henry Hamlett, age 18 months.

Mr. Hamlett, who is employed with a planing mill at South Boston, resided in a two-story frame building on the west side of the city, near the Norfolk and Western railway. The fire was discovered at about 3 o'clock in the morning by neighbors. At this hour the occupants of the house had not been aroused, and the building was almost completely enveloped in flames, the fire raging the worst on the south side of the structure.

Story of the Tragedy.

The residence was threatening to fall in at almost any minute when Mr. Hamlett and his wife were aroused. They were on the north side of the house, and their four-year-old child was in the same room. They crawled out of the window on the front porch and dropped the child to the ground. Both of the child's arms were broken by the fall. The baby was also slightly burned and its face lacerated. Mr. and Mrs. Hamlett reached the ground in safety.

All of the occupants of the building were sleeping on the second story and those who met death were on the south side of the house. When the fire was discovered it was impossible to save any of the children or Mr. Strange, all of whom it is thought had been burned to death by this time. Mr. Strange was a Confederate veteran of Halifax county and was in South Boston to attend the Fourth of July celebration.

The building collapsed and fell a few minutes after Mr. Hamlett and his wife escaped, the six bodies of the victims of the fire, burned to a crisp, the remains an unrecognizable mass of bones, being taken from the debris later.

Angry Husband Killed His Wife and Tries Suicide

RICHMOND, Va., July 6.—Declaring that she should never leave him again unless they went together, Mordecai Harvey Taylor, a barber, living at 1211 North Twenty-second street, shot and killed his wife before two of their smallest children, and then rushed into an adjoining room and turned the same revolver on himself, inflicting a wound in the left breast which may prove fatal.

The murder and attempted suicide was the result of a quarrel which started over the whipping of one of the children by Taylor. Mrs. Taylor left him Saturday, going to the home of her sister. Returning some time yesterday, the quarrel was renewed and Mrs. Taylor threatened to leave a third time.

"Well, if you're going to leave me again we might as well go together," replied the angry husband, and began shooting. He fired four times, one of the balls penetrating the neck, another the right hand and two went into the back.

Seeking to End Duel Father Is Fatally Shot

GRAYSON, Ga., July 6.—Much excitement prevails in this community over the fatal injury of Rev. E. L. Langley, who was shot yesterday while trying to separate his son, Ross Langley, and J. E. Webb, who were engaged in a fight.

Webb and young Langley fought a desperate duel with pistols. Each received two wounds of a serious nature.

The minister in attempting to act as peacemaker came within the range of the flying bullets and fell at his son's feet, mortally wounded.

Soon afterward I became dizzy and did not recollect anything more. I had a vague remembrance of being at a church and getting on a train. I did not come to myself until we were several miles out of Atlanta. I asked Russell where we were and he told me that we had been married. I never consented to marry him, and did not want to marry him. At the time of the marriage I was so afflicted with fright and drugs that I did not know what I was doing.

Thomas was not represented either in person or by attorney, and upon this evidence the decree of divorce was granted.

"Dickson, with but one hundred and sixty men, and all fighters, defeated the Federals, numbering several hundred. Only two Confederates were killed, while twenty-three Federals were slain and a large number injured. The Confederates also captured the lieutenant-colonel, six captains, seven lieutenants and two hundred and two privates.

ANOTHER SHUT-OUT TO THE OAK HALLS' CREDIT

YESTERDAY'S GOOSE EGG MAKES THE FOURTH THIS SEASON.

Locals Have Scored Sixty-Two Runs
So Far This Season, and Only
Thirteen Tallies Against Them.

Oak Halls 8, St. Augustine 0.

By playing errorless ball yesterday afternoon on the local grounds the Oak Halls won in a walk, playing rings around the visitors. The game was marked by some clean hitting and good fielding on the part of Manager Davis' men, while the St. Augustine boys were weak both at bat and in the field.

The features of the game was the pitching of Watson, who held the Ancient City boys down to two hits, and the work of Bullock behind the bat. Harry caught a nice game and his pegging to second was classy, every visitor trying to swipe that bag getting a ticket to the bench.

"Slim" Ellington, the supposed crack pitcher from Jacksonville, had nothing on the home boys, as they seemed to hit at will. Hendricks and Spottswood laced the pill to the fence, while others of the home squad did good work with the willow.

In the seven games played this season, the Oak Halls have scored sixty-two runs, while they have allowed a total of only 13 runs to be tallied against them. Four of the games were shut-outs. Guess that's going some.

In the two games St. Augustine got only one man as far as third base, that being in Monday's game. Yesterday they did not do as good—only got one as far as second.

The locals started their scoring in the first inning. Miller singled to center; Graham walked; Allen sacrificed; Bullock hit to short, scoring Miller, and himself taking second on the throw to the plate; Watson grounded to second, out at first, Graham scoring on the play, but Bullock was thrown out trying to score from second. Two runs.

In the third Miller fanned; Graham did the same; Allen singled down third-base line and went to second on a low throw to first; Bullock beat out a slow grounder to short, and Allen

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Gainesville People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's Disease, or diabetes. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Gainesville proof:

Mrs. James Doig, 902 Alachua avenue, Gainesville, Fla., says: "It is now some time since I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I am glad to say that I have had no need of a kidney remedy. Several years ago Doan's Kidney Pills drove away a severe attack of kidney trouble and time has proven the cure to be a permanent one. I take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

scored; Bullock stole second; Watson fouled out to third. One run.

In the fourth Hendricks put one against the left-field fence for three bases; Spottswood laced one in the same place for two bases, and went to third and in home on two wild throws; Lawson singled to left and took second on low throw to first by Ellington; Merchant fouled out to first, Lawson going to third; Miller singled to left, scoring Lawson; Graham hit to third, forcing Miller out at second; Allen singled to right, Graham going to third, and Allen going to second when they tried to catch "Sandy"; Bullock skied out to third. Three runs.

The locals scored two more in the seventh. Watson hit to left for one base, Miller running for him; Hendricks popped out to second; Miller stole second; Spottswood walked; Lawson singled over short, scoring Miller, and going to second on throw to the plate; Spottswood stole home; Merchant hit to pitcher, and Lawson was tagged trying to make third; Miller out on a line drive to left. Two runs.

The Summary.

Hits—Gainesville 13, St. Augustine 2.
Errors—Gainesville 0, St. Augustine 1.
Three-base hits—Hendricks.
Two-base hits—Spottswood.

MARSHAL MOOTY MAKES QUICK WORK ON CASE

CATCHES ROBBER WITH THE GOODS ON HIM AT ALACHUA.

Brought Here and Placed in Jail by the Officer Tuesday, Who Recovered Some of Goods.

Walter Williams, alias Albert Johnson, who claims Jacksonville as his home, was arrested at Alachua Tuesday morning by Marshal Mooty upon a charge of larceny.

His first case was made at Hague, where he entered the store of R. W. Small, stealing a pair of shoes, some cheese, several pocket knives and some other minor articles; but not satisfied with his successful "exit" at Hague, he proceeded to Alachua and broke down the door to the freight depot of the Seaboard at that place.

Marshal Mooty was notified of the theft, and after a thorough search about the quarters found the man, together with a number of the stolen goods from the store of Mr. Small at Hague, which were readily identified by him. Williams was probably frightened away before getting anything of value from the depot.

An entrance was effected at Hague by breaking in the back window to the store building, and although a few families lived within close range of the store, they were not attracted by the noise, and the occurrence was not discovered until early Tuesday morning when the store was opened up for the day's business.

Is what could truthfully be said of many children who die. They have worms, poor little things—they don't know it and you don't realize it. If your child is cross, fretful, pasty-complexioned and loses weight for no apparent reason, give it White's Cream Vermifuge—you will be surprised at the results and how quickly it picks up. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Rains Are Acceptable.

H. M. Moran of Campville, one of the most prominent citizens of the East End, was a visitor to the city Tuesday. He states that the people are happy over the arrival of the rainy season and feel that they could stand a great deal more of it, for they prefer the ponds and lakes full in reference to dry, as has been the case during the past several months.

TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell system, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and our plant here is an important link in this great chain.

AN ESSENTIAL REQUIREMENT.

The decision of the Illinois supreme court in refusing citizenship to a man who kept his saloon open on Sunday will probably meet with the approval of most people. Citizenship implies obedience to the law, and the court rightly took the ground that a man knowingly and persistently violating law was not fit to be a citizen.

The decision ought to serve as a warning in more ways than one. Too often people have been naturalized who for reasons like the above, or others equally vital, were notoriously unfit for citizenship of maintaining and enforcing law and were a menace to the community in which they lived.

But it also has or should have an important bearing upon the whole question of law observance and law enforcement. If a man is unfit to become a citizen because of persistent violation of law, is a man who is already a citizen fit to retain his citizenship if guilty along the same lines? And, also, is the man who, after swearing to enforce laws on his induction to office, but who deliberately breaks his oath, fit to retain office or his citizenship? The Illinois supreme court in its decision in the above mentioned case uttered sound doctrine when it said: "It is essential to the safety and the perpetuity of government that laws be enforced until repealed."

In these days when the malodorous results of young American girls teaching Christianity and flirtation to Chinamen are filling columns of the daily press and hysterical preachers are working themselves into a frenzy in their efforts to collect funds for missionary work among the foreign heathen, it is pleasant to read that the women of Baltimore are devoting their surplus energies to a sane and humane philanthropy. The good women of the Monumental City have formed an organization for the purpose of endowing a rest farm for worn-out and overburdened horses. They submit that there are numerous instances of poor people who require the services of a horse to earn their living, whose steed is apt, especially in the hot weather, to become incapacitated for work while its owner cannot afford to put it out of its misery with a human bullet. In many instances a few weeks' complete rest on the farm with an abundance of good pasture, shade and water, would prove a God-send to the animal and its owner, and they argue that no better charity could be devised than such a rest farm for temporarily incapacitated horses. Some of the promoters of this philanthropy also propose to receive horses that are completely worn out with a view to permitting them to end their days on such a farm. There is a pretty sentiment back of the idea, but until the rest farm assumes such proportions that it can accommodate all the horses who need only recuperation we would question the advisability of devoting space to those for whom there is no hope of recovery.

A Miami paper conveys the appalling intelligence that Claude L'Engle will make his canvass for the United States Senate in a big automobile, to be furnished him as an advertisement by the manufacturers. Thus do political prospects get "wasser and wasser." Claude running under his own motive power and with his own supply of gas would be bad enough. But Claude, equipped with a honking horn and a gasoline smell, would raise such a combination of fuss and stink that all decent people would have to take to the Everglades.—Tampa Tribune.

When reading sensational reports regarding affairs in Cuba it is just as well to remember that this is what is termed the silly season in the newspaper offices in midsummer, and the effort to make a readable newspaper too often results in the magnifying of rumors into sensations. Discontented persons who cannot secure a single ear for their complaints in any newspaper office in the country in midwinter frequently find a writer especially hard up for news in the summer who will exploit their grievances in an article a column or more long. This is not saying that conditions in Cuba are entirely satisfactory to the administration in Washington. Indeed, were that the case it would be most surprising. But while the Washington government has deemed it advisable to whisper a word of caution from time to time to the administration at Havana, there is no warrant for some of the sensational reports which have found their way into print. Now, as in the past, the chief sources of such reports are discontented contractors who quarrel with the officials of the Cuban administration and then seek to get even through the American press. Of course President Taft and his advisers are thoroughly in touch with the situation and appreciate how much or how little attention should be paid to such newspaper reports, but the conservative press cannot do a better work than to save their readers from being misled by this species of yellow journalism.

Heaven helps those who help themselves, but some men, judging from their inaction, want heaven or their wives to do all the work.

HANDS CRACKED RAW AND SCALY

Itched and Burned Terribly—Arms Affected, Too—Could Not Move Thumbs Without Flesh Cracking—Sleep and Work Often Impossible—Was Fairly Worn Out.

CUTICURA SOON CURED HIS FEARFUL ECZEMA

"About a year ago an itching humor began to appear around the back of my hand. It started in to spread, and pretty soon it covered both my hands and got up over my wrists and even up to the elbows. The itching and burning were terrible. My hands got all scaly and when I scratched, as I was doing a good part of the time, the surface would be covered with blisters and then get raw. The eczema got so bad in around the pit of my thumbs that I could not move the thumbs without deep cracks appearing. I went to my doctor, but his medicine could only stop the itching and did not seem to heal my hands up at all. At night I suffered so fearfully that I could not sleep, often lying awake until well toward morning, then waking up still tired. I am a chef and steward by trade and I had to give up my place, as my hands were so terrible to look at that they did not like to have me around about the food. I could not bear to touch them with water, but when I positively had to get my hands clean I would rub them with oil.

"This sort of business went on for three months and I kept trying zinc and tar ointments and such remedies with no particular benefit. I did not know what to do, for I was fairly worn out. For a long time several friends kept asking me why I didn't use Cuticura and at last I thought I would. First I got the Cuticura Soap, then Cuticura Ointment and at last Cuticura Resolvent. I put the Cuticura Ointment on at night, covering my hands with light cotton gloves. In the morning the inside of the gloves would be lined with scales, sometimes half as long as your finger, leaving nice healed places where the scales had been. In a month I was cured and have kept so now for nine months. My hands and arms are perfectly clear of all traces of eczema and I think I am well rid of it. Walter H. Cox, 16 Somerset St., Boston, Mass. Sept. 25, 1908."

HIS FIRST RECOGNITION.

The Turning Point in the Career of Nathaniel Hawthorne.

The first reading of "The Scarlet Letter" has been told in T. W. Higginson's book of essays, "Contemporaries." The reading was given to the author's dearest friend, his wife. During the entire winter when he was at work upon the book he seemed oppressed by some secret anxiety.

"There was a knot in his forehead all the time," said Mrs. Hawthorne.

Finally one evening he went to her and said that he had written something which he would like to read aloud. The work amounted to very little, but still he would like to read it. All that evening he read, but as the romance was unfinished at bedtime his wife made no comments, knowing that he disliked criticism until one had heard the whole.

The next night he read again, and now her suspense grew so unendurable that in the midst of a moving scene she sank from her low stool to the floor, pressed her hands to her ears and declared that she could not bear to hear it.

Hawthorne put down the manuscript and looked at her in amazement.

"Do you really feel it so much?" he asked. "Then there must be something in it."

The next day the manuscript was delivered to the publisher, and on the following morning James T. Fields, the publisher, appeared at the author's door. When he was admitted he caught the little boy of the family in his arms and asked, "You splendid little fellow, do you know what a father you have?"

He had sat up all night to read the manuscript and had posted out to Salem in the early morning. After his interview with the publisher Hawthorne came downstairs with a firm step and walked about, his face illumined by new hope and vigor. The world had found him out. Recognition was at the door.

Human Heart as a Power Engine.

A great physician once remarked that, despite its complexity, there was no organ of the body readier to adapt itself to circumstances or more capable of repaying ordinary care than the heart. This is very true, and an appreciation of that fact should cause us all the more carefully to follow the wise man's advice and to keep our heart with all diligence. When we have regard to the tremendous work the heart accomplishes we might well with Wesley say, "Strange that a harp of a thousand strings should keep in tune so long." Estimated in scientific fashion, a man's heart in twenty-four hours performs an amount of work which if represented by the energy demanded for a big lift would raise 120 tons of weight one foot high. Such a calculation can be accurately determined by measuring the force expended in one beat or cycle of movement of the heart and multiplying the short work into that of the day. Thus in no small degree does the heart's labor contribute to swell the big total of the energy the human engine expends each day it lives.—New York World.

The world's most successful medicine for bowel complaints is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has relieved more pain and suffering, and saved more lives than any other medicine in use. Invaluable for children and adults. Sold by all druggists.

HAY'S PREDICTION.

"I Expect to Be Comfortably Dead in 1909," He Wrote.

A very interesting letter referring to President Lincoln just after his first inauguration and written by John Hay is dated Washington, 1861, and says in part:

"If there is anything which more than all causes me to regret the intolerable press of business about the president's office it is the impossibility of answering the letters of my best friends. I have positively not had a moment's leisure since we arrived in this city. The throng of office seekers is absolutely fearful. They come at daybreak and still are coming at midnight."

"You know that in anything I can do you can command me, but you overrate my influence. Mr. Lincoln positively refuses to make any recommendations for positions in the department; he rejects the entreaties even of his most intimate friends and relatives."

In another letter, Washington, Dec. 12, no year. Hay says:

"Walter Noyes was appointed on the recommendation of two Rhode Island senators, Burnside and Anthony. I did not pay McKinley's debts. I never called him William in my life, nor did he ever call me John. Our intercourse has always been of the most formal character. I have absolutely no claim on him for myself or friends."

And in another letter Hay writes from Washington:

"I am old, sick and busy, and I have not a moment at my disposition besides what is occupied by my daily tasks. . . . Do not talk about anything so ridiculous as my being a candidate for the presidency. I shall never hold an office after this, and I expect to be comfortably dead by 1909."

As will be recalled, Secretary Hay died July 1, 1905.—New York Times.

A BUCKET OF WATER.

In Right Place When Needed It Will Prevent a Conflagration.

A single bucket of water—even a cupful—thrown on a blaze at its start often does more good than a reservoir full ten minutes later. And yet in not one out of a thousand American homes is a single bucket of water dedicated to fire protection. The only excuses for this negligence are ignorance, carelessness, total disregard of property and life. Poverty may explain the absence of structural protection, but no one who has a home is too poor to afford a bucket of water. Even 25 cents spent for fire pails will measurably increase for years the safety of a house and that of its inmates. And the only attention this very effective fire apparatus will need is an occasional refilling from the pump or tap.

The virtue of the bucket of water kept exclusively for fire purposes is that it is always there when you look for it and always full of water. There is, to be sure, lots of water around the house (except when the pipe or pump has frozen), but by the time one can find a bucket, take it to the tap or pump, wait for it to fill and then take it back to the fire not one bucket but ten are needed. If, however, you can dash into the hall, seize a ready filled bucket and souse the blazing curtain, all within twenty seconds, one bucket generally will be more than enough, as good as a whole fire department and far less destructive than its superfluity of water.

The family that cares anything at all for its belongings should keep at least one bucket of water on a little bracket in the hall on each floor and another bucket in the garret. Down cellar there should be a barrel of water and a bucket not far from the furnace. The water in the garret or cellar may be kept from freezing in cold weather by adding common salt.—Exchange.

Culinary Courtship.

Janet had molded the domestic affairs of the family with whom she lived for so many years that the news of her intended marriage had much the effect of an earthquake. "Have you and David been engaged long?" ventured the mistress of the household.

"One week when next Sabbath comes," stated Janet briefly.

"And—had you any thought of marrying before that?" asked her mistress.

"Times I had and times I had not," said the imperturbable Janet, "as any person will. But a month ago when I gave David a wee bit of the cake I'd been making and he said to me, 'Janet, have you the recipe firm in your mind, lass, so you could make it if Mrs. Mann's book would be far from your reach?' I knew well the time was drawing short."

"And when," said Janet, closing her eyes at the recollection, "I said to him, 'David, lad, the recipe is copied in a little book of my own,' and I saw the glint in his eye I reckoned 'twould be within the month he'd ask me."

Hippo's Mouth an Impressive Sight.

The hippopotamus is a sort of floating island which inhabits the African rivers. To see a hippopotamus rise out of the water and go away is as disconcerting to the tourist as it would be to see a sand bar get out of the Missouri river and chase a cow. The hippo—life is too short to write his full name—is a big brother of the pig. He weighs five tons, and a gargyle is cute and pretty beside him. He is fat and flabby, covered with a reddish skin adorned with bristles and has a broad, flat head as wide as a dinner table. The mouth of the hippo is another of nature's African extravaganzas. He has mouth enough to do the eating for a boys' boarding school. His jaws are very flexible, and those who have gazed into the inner works of a hippo when he has opened his vast pink lined mouth, studded here and there with tusks that look like broken off Grecian columns, have been impressed with the sight.—Collier's Weekly.

How Rats Move Eggs.

Strange as the story may appear of rats removing hens' eggs from the bottom to the top of a house by one rat lying on his back and grasping tightly his ovoid burden with his forepaws while his comrades drag him away by the tail, I have no reason, writes a naturalist, to disbelieve it. I have seen two rats accomplish the feat from stair to stair in a farmhouse in Banffshire, the first anxious rodent pushing the egg up on its hind legs and the second assistant lifting it up with its fore legs. It was the best athletic feat I ever witnessed, but it is not out of the common. The rat will extract the contents from a dask of Florence oil, dipping in his long tail and repeating the maneuver until he has consumed all that can be reached.

In the Interest of Good Eyes.

A noted oculist advises against using the eyes immediately after waking; therefore the habit of many young girls of reading or studying in bed is injurious. It is harmful to use the eyes when sleepy, as it is a great strain upon the muscles. If one must read or write when drowsy, rise occasionally and bathe the eyes with hot or cold water. Remember that a quick change from a dark room to a brilliant light is a strain upon the eyes.—New York Press.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 10

The Man Who Retreats Before His Defeat!

By Herbert Kaufman.

Advertising isn't magic. There is no element of the black art about it. In its best and highest form it is plain talk, sane talk—selling talk. Its results are in proportion to the merit of the subject advertised and the ability with which the advertising is done.

There are two great enemies to advertising profit, and both of them are caused by ignorance of the real functions and workings of publicity.

The one is to advertise promises which will not be fulfilled, because all that advertising can do when it accomplishes most is to influence the reader of your copy to investigate your claims.

If you promise the earth and deliver the moon advertising will not pay you.

If you draw men and women to your store on pretense and fail to make good, advertising will have harmed you because it has only drawn attention to the fact that you are to be avoided.

It is as unjust to charge advertising with failure under these conditions as it would be for your neighbor to rob a bank and find yourself indicted for his misdeed. In brief, advertised dishonesty is even more profitless than unexploited deception.

The other great error in advertising is to expect more out of advertising than there is in it.

Advertising is seed which a merchant plants in the confidence of the community. He must allow time for it to grow. Every successful advertiser has to be patient. The time that it takes to arrive at results rests entirely with the ability and determination you display in the effort. But you cannot turn back when you have traveled half way and declare that the path is wrong.

You can't advertise for a week and because your store isn't crowded say it hasn't paid you. It takes a certain period to attract the attention of readers. Everybody doesn't see what you print the first time it appears. More will notice your copy the second day, a great many more at the end of a month.

You cannot expect to win the confidence of the community to the same degree that other men have obtained it without taking pretty much the same length of time that they did. But you can cut short the period between your introduction to your reader and his introduction to your counters by spending more effort in preparing your copy and displaying a greater amount of convincingness.

You mustn't act like the little girl who planted a garden and came out the next day expecting to find it in full bloom. Her father had to explain to her that plans require roots and that, although she could not see what was going on, the seeds were doing their most important work just before the flowers showed above ground.

So advertising is doing its most important work before the big results eventuate, and to abandon the money which has been invested just before results arrive is not only foolish but childish. It would be just as logical for a farmer to abandon his fields because he could not harvest his corn a week after he planted it.

Advertising does not require faith—merely common sense. If it is begun in doubt and deserted before normal results can be reasonably looked for, the fault does not lie with the newspaper or with publicity—it rests entirely upon the head of the coward who retreated before he was defeated.

(Copyright, 1908, by Tribune Company, Chicago.)

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocket-book—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.

GAINESVILLE, —THE— University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat, "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

Mrs. E. R. Berger left yesterday for Cleveland and other points in Ohio to be absent the remainder of the summer. She was accompanied by Master Donald Gardner, who will visit in Indiana for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jernigan left yesterday for their home at Madison after having spent the past several days here. Mr. Jernigan has had charge of the jewelry and repair business during his father's absence at the beach.

The regular meeting of the Alpha Delta Tau Fraternity will be held this afternoon at the home of Miss Alma Fennell, at 4:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present. Miss Pearl Colson, Pres.; Miss Pearl Whetstone, Sec.

J. A. Maultsby of Campville, manager for the brick company at that place, was a visitor here yesterday. He has had a great deal to contend with during the past few months, but is pleased to announce that he is again running and making a great many bricks.

R. E. L. Robinson returned yesterday from a short visit to Jacksonville. He is now able to get around fairly well and hopes to resume his duties as roadmaster within a short while. It will be remembered that he sustained a crushed foot while superintending the unloading of railroad iron and at one time it was thought that amputation would be necessary, but medical science saved the member.

Many people with chronic throat and lung trouble have found comfort and relief in Foley's Honey and Tar, as it cures stubborn coughs after other treatment has failed. L. M. Ruggles, Reasnor, Iowa, writes: "The doctors said I had consumption, and I got no better until I took Foley's Honey and Tar. It stopped the hemorrhages and pain in my lungs and they are now as sound as a bullet." J. W. McCollum & Co.

JOLLY CROWD DEPART.

Manager Davis Accompanied by a Number of Baseball Admirers.

Henry Davis, with his crowd of baseball players, left the city Tuesday night via the Coast Line for Orlando, to meet the boys of that city on the diamond there this afternoon in the first of a series of three games. The boys were accompanied by a number of local fans.

During the road trip now on they will play eight games, three with Orlando on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, then to Sanford for Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, and on up to Palatka for two games Wednesday and Thursday, arriving home on the night of the 14th.

They are not counting on winning more than half of the games, but confidently expect to make an even break, and the news that Manager Davis will send home must be good news of his victory to this extent.

Taylor, and possibly one other man, will join him the first of next week, and he thinks he has as good a ball team as was ever sent out from Gainesville.

The Sun has made special arrangements for a report of the games for each day, which will be received immediately following the game, and will come from the official scorer, Larkin Carter.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctors' fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—Samuel Boyer, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by all druggists. Samples free.
